Language Technologies and Digital Humanities Conference 2018

Darja Fišer
Tomaž Erjavec
Simon Dobrišek
Andrej Pančur
Iza Škrjanec

20-21 September 2018
Ljubljana
How it all began

• 1\textsuperscript{st} Language Technologies Conference 1998
  – organized by Tomaž Erjavec, Vojko Gorjanc, Jerneja Žganec and Anica Rant
  – development and application of language technologies for Slovene
  – 26 papers: speech technologies and phonology, computer-assisted translation and teaching, corpora, encoding standards for language data, searching for information on the internet
  – establishment of the Slovenian language technologies society
Where we are today

• 20\textsuperscript{th} ANNUAL ANNIVERSARY !!!
• 2\textsuperscript{nd} Language Technologies and Digital Humanities Conference
• 52 papers submitted
• 47 papers accepted (87\% acceptance rate), 96 authors
  – 2 talks invited talks
  – 36 regular full papers and 5 abstracts
  – 4 student papers
• topics
  – digital humanities (16)
  – language technologies (11)
  – corpus linguistics (10)
  – language resources (8)
  – infrastructure (2)
• 48 reviewers
  – most papers reviewed by 3 reviewers, 150 reviews in total
Language Technologies and Digital Humanities 2018 Conference in Ljubljana

Country of all authors of articles: Europe without Brazil (1) and Japan (1)
Contribution type

- Invited talks: 5 (11%)
- Full papers: 36 (77%)
- Abstracts: 3 (6%)
- Student papers: 1 (2%)
- Student abstract: 2 (4%)
Contribution language

Presentations
- Slovene: 16
- English: 31

Papers
- Slovene: 21
- English: 26
Into the future

- Best Student Paper Award
- Special issue journal
  - English edition
  - reviewed
  - Open Access
- LTDH2020
  - venue
  - organizers
- SDJT
  - elections
Thank you!

- invited lecturers
- authors
- reviewers
- organizing committee
- session chairs
- technical editors
- sponsors